Bloom Community College was organized in 1958 and has grown from an initial enrollment of 125 students to 1,377 full and part time students in the school year of 1965-66. The college has been fortunate to have a separate building for most of the academic program. For many years Bloom was the only public junior college to have a college center built specifically for college instruction and even now is one of only two such colleges.

Bloom's curriculum is comprehensive. In addition to the liberal arts and pre-professional transfer courses, Bloom has two-year courses in engineering technology, electronics technology, general business and accounting, and secretarial training. In addition, a one-year vocational dental assisting curriculum has been established. An associate degree nursing program for the training of nurses qualified to take the state examination for registered nurses will begin in September, 1966. It has been the philosophy of the administration and faculty to provide curricula which serve the post high school needs of the community.

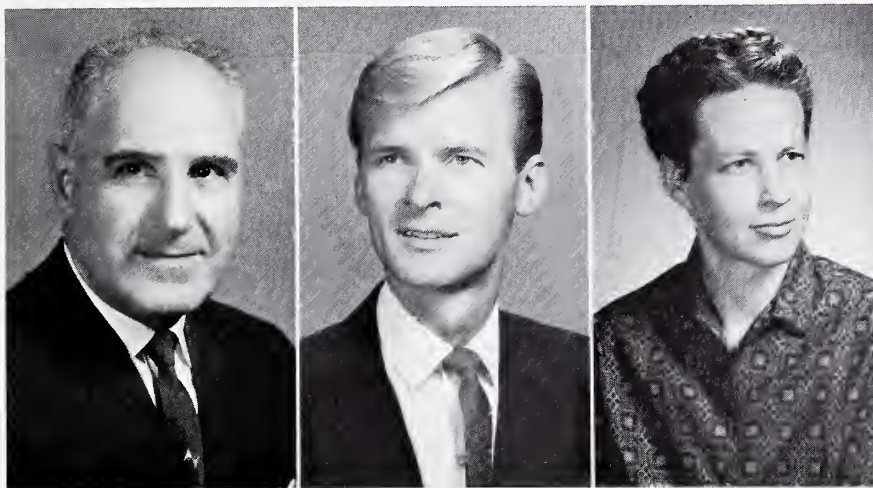

Bloom is recognized and accredited by the State of Illinois and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The college is a member of the Illinois Association of Junior Colleges, the North Central Council of Junior Colleges, and the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Spring Queen's Court

Smiling happily immediately following the coronation ceremonies are Diane Kukral, Kathy Annunziatia, Queen Lynn, and Linda Iafollo.

Formal

Attendants

On May 22, 1965, the students of Bloom College attended the annual Spring Formal. The couples spent three hours swaying to the music of George Sochan and his fine orchestra.

At 10:30, the court members moved to the stage and the time to crown the Queen was near. Within a matter of minutes Lynn Mitchell was crowned Queen.

Lynn is crowned Queen by the President of the Freshmen Class Bob Leach.

Queen and King

The traditional coronation waltz.

A clear crisp winter's night was Mother Nature's setting for the annual Snowball Dance. But inside the Amvetes Hall of Crete students of Bloom College found the atmosphere warm, friendly and most delightful. Spending an evening of Magic 'Mistletoe Magic' proved to be a success.

Held on December 18, 1965, the couples danced to the melodic melodies of the Vel-Tones. The decorations created an enjoyable atmosphere. Bits of holly and pieces of mistletoe hung from the ceiling intertwined in a green and red circle of magic Christmas trees, with colorful red bows and silver tinsel surrounding the dance floor. Cheerful green and red table cloths decorated the table tops with lovely center pieces of holly and softly lit glass candle holders.

Halloween Dance

Purple Pumpkin

Creative costumes surely fooled the attendants of my dance the Purple Pumpkin! John Thoeming, who is in my right eye with Camella LaMorttella, won the prize for the best individual costume. Notice in my left eye are the spooks of the dance. Recognize anyone? Oh yes, and in my nose is Cinderfeller Bill Pierce and his godmother Kathy Showalter. They didn't win a prize but they sure are funny.

The dance was held in the lounge on October 29, 1965. Witches and goblins met the halloweeners as they entered the Purple Pumpkin. Colors of orange, black and purple, along with ghost, scare crows, corn-stalks, witches and jack-o-lanterns decorated the dance in an atmosphere of terror. No one seemed to mind though, a record number of students attended my dance.

Cheerleaders Sponsor "Basketball Bounce"

One of our star players Rick Caroson and his date Sherry Coradetti dance to the Bouncing music of the Impalas.

Most Students danced it up at the Basketball Bounce like Marlyn Lenard, (left) and some did not. Steve Cook, Connie Johnson, Randy Gonyer and Linda Iafollo obviously felt that 'Basketball Bounces' really isn't their forte.

After an exciting basketball game at the Purdue extension the cheerleaders honored their heroes, the basketball players, with a dance.

Cheerleader Captain Pat Cafferelli and her squad, decorated the lounge symbolizing a typical basketball game. Each player received a paper basketball with their name on it as a remembrance of their college basketball days.

Drummer Mike Berchem of the Impalas.

Bloom College Celebrates New Year on January 7th!

The Happy New Year Band--The Avantes--

Nothing witless about the "never miss a Trick" students of Bloom College. They always made use of a good thing! And what is a better thing than New Years? Why not have two?

All of our students had such a marvelous time celebrating the first New Year on January 1st, they they decided to have another celebration.

So on January 7th, with the lounge decorated with "Best Wishes for the New Year", calendar months of past years and lovely snowflakes watching the merrymakers through the windows, the students enjoyed their second Happy New Year!

ACADEMICS

Student Honors

Phi Theta Kappa

Connie Johnson, Marion Senger, Jim Galbrith, Rosemary Stelter, Sue Pleterski.

Beta Phi Gamma

Beta Phi Gamma is the Journalism Society of Bloom College this year. The club included Bob Sargent and Diana Kukral. The requirements are one semester of attendance of Bloom College and one year of service on the newspaper staff and/or the annual staff. New members are selected on the basis of their ability and desire. The new members will be inducted in the spring of the school year.

A.W.S.

Associated Women Society, was established at Bloom College in 1965. This organization allows the women students to create a desirable relationship with the school and the community. The women students sponsor many school activities; such as, the annual Christmas Chocolate, a Talent Show, various dances and a Mother-Daughter Luncheon and fashion show.

Annual Staff

Spectrum

Much time is spent in preparing a yearbook. Work begins the first week of school, even though the results are not distributed until late spring.

Bloom C.C. operating on a semester basis, loses and gains students, second semester. This spring semester Carter Sheapard and Ruthanne Dooley, annual co-editors, ended their schooling at C.C. and continued elsewhere. Therefore, Mrs. Levine and editor Linda Iafollo completed the annual. Our annual photographer was Ted Johnson. Also some of the pictures shown were taken by John Theoming. Our sports editor was Jack Broschler.

Spectrum '66, was designed with the Bloom Students in mind. Presentation of all school activities, academic and social, were covered to give the students a fond remembrance of their C. C. college days.

Newspaper Staff

Sargent and Kukral--our leaders--

Newspaper editors Bob Sargent and Diana Kukral.

The newspaper is written and edited by the students for the reading pleasure of the entire school.

This year the newspaper staff consisted of five students. These five students, working together with Mrs. Levine, the sponsor produced a most enjoyable and informative newspaper. Each member worked diligently each month to secure colorful, interesting, and fact finding articles to complete the edition. Editors Sargent and Kukral are to be commended for the publication of a fine newspaper.

Staff members this year includes (left to right) Ted Johnson, Jerry Cassity, and Alan Bartels.

The 1965-66 Student Government of Bloom College was organized differently than any other year. As usual there were the offices of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. However, in addition, for a more effective government the offices of Athletic Director and Director of Social Activities was instituted.

Also, the office of Director at Large was created to represent the students. There are five directors at large.

Because of this new form of government the students felt well represented and satisfied with the policies and activities of the school. Our new system of government is truly a success.
